

2021 Dr. Lily Peter Spring Celebration

Poets' Roundtable of Arkansas's 2021 Dr. Lily Peter Spring Celebration is scheduled for April 10, 2021. Whether the conference will be in person or by video will be announced as soon as determined.

Featured speaker is Suzanne Underwood Rhodes. Suzanne moved to Fayetteville in 2018 from Virginia Beach and fell in love with the trees and mountains and birds and friendly people.

She's the author of several books of poetry and creative prose, including Weather of the House; Sketches of Home; What a Light Thing, This Stone; A Welcome Shore, and, her new, full collection of poems, Flying Yellow. Her poems appear regularly in journals like Christian Century, Image, Poetry East, Slant, Midwest Quarterly Review, and many others. Suzanne teaches poetry workshops and is an associate editor of the Sow's Ear Poetry Review. She has an independent writing and editing business, PR Flair, and holds an MA degree from Johns Hopkins University in poetry. Suzanne is married to Wayne Rhodes, a landscape photographer, and together they enjoy using their different ways of seeing to create poetic and visual art as they hike and travel throughout beautiful Northwest Arkansas.

Each year this conference honors Dr. Lily Peter in recognition of her efforts to promote poetry in Arkansas. For conference questions contact Frieda Patton at patton.frieda@gmail.com or 501-847-5328.
